Looking for a WordPress developer!

The aim of the project is to create a WordPress website for delivering text and video content for PhD university course. We are looking for a person ready to learn and experiment with us to create a new course experience.

Requirements for the candidate:
- Experience of developing WP websites
- Good command of UX design
- Ability to work independently and attention to detail
- Visually oriented and creative

Experience with graphic design is a plus.

The fee is negotiable and there is also an opportunity for students to get ECTS points.

Please send your motivation letter and examples of previous relevant work to the following email: djuddah.leijen@ut.ee